Empire-style Cut-glass Sugar Bowl (or Candy Dish)

980 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Crystal

Description

An elegant lidded sugar bowl from the Empire period, combining finely cut crystal--likely Baccarat--with a high-quality gilded bronze mount. The tripod base, featuring eagle heads connected by chains, reflects the neoclassical style characteristic of the First Empire. The lid is topped with a pine cone-shaped knob.A beautiful decorative and collectible piece, combining the refinement of crystal with the richness of gilded bronze.Dimensions: 30 x 15 cm.Shipping within France: 20 euros.The gallery is constantly seeking high-quality furniture, objets d'art, paintings, and antiques. We offer on-site visits and appraisals throughout France.
