Description

Designed by Daisy Makeig-Jones, this rare Wedgwood Fairyland Lustre bowl dates to around 1915 and corresponds to the factory pattern Z4828. The design combines a pearl-grey Turkish-Blue Lustre exterior with a luminous Yellow Lustre interior featuring a finely painted dragon.

Scattered gilt Oriental motifs decorate the exterior, while the interior displays rich iridescence and exceptionally detailed dragon decoration. The unusual colour palette distinguishes this example from more commonly encountered Fairyland Lustre bowls and demonstrates the imaginative approach that made Daisy Makeig-Jones famous.

An attractive display piece and a desirable collector's example from one of Wedgwood's
