Description

Carlo Bugatti (1856-1940) An original side table in ebonized walnut that exemplifies Bugatti's characteristic style. The table is covered with bleached deerskin on all four sides and is adorned with hand-hammered copper appliqués and pewter inlays, and the legs are wrapped in forged copper. This highly stylized piece draws inspiration from a blend of cultural influences, including Moorish, Japanese, and Islamic art. Made in the 1890s, it illustrates Bugatti's shift toward more geometric designs and remains in excellent condition. Information and additional photos available upon request
