Description

An elegant eight-light Genoese chandelier dating from the early 20th century, crafted in the Ligurian decorative tradition that combines lightness, luminosity, and ornamental refinement. The central structure, in carved and gilded wood, supports a harmonious arrangement of arms decorated with rich beaded trims and cut-glass pendants that lend the piece extraordinary luminosity. The crystal garlands and floral elements are particularly decorative, visually lightening the structure and enhancing its elegance. The design draws on the tradition of the grand chandeliers found in Genoese noble palaces between the late 19th century and the early decades of the 20th century, characterized by the combination of precious materials and a strong focus on lighting effects.
