Description

Elegant 19th-century Italian Empire chest of drawers, crafted from high-quality walnut. The solid and harmonious structure is distinguished by its understated lines and balanced proportions, typical of the neoclassical style of the era. The piece features three drawers, including a smaller, concealed top drawer, adorned with gilded metal handles and keyholes, as well as column-shaped side posts that accentuate its vertical slenderness. The top surface is made of dark marble, finely molded and perfectly integrated into the structure. In excellent condition, this chest of drawers is ideal both as a functional piece of furniture and as a significant decorative element, capable of enhancing classic and elegant interiors. The listed price refers exclusively to the chest of drawers. For information regarding the
