Description

China :XIX / XXèmeA Chinese cloisonné enamel vase in a pear shape, with a narrow neck and a bronzed metal ring base. Colored enamels within a network of thin metal strips soldered to a copper core. The decoration features an intense turquoise background embellished with stylized black leafy scrolls upon which bloom large flowers with white, red, and blue petals--likely peonies or lotuses, auspicious motifs in traditional Chinese iconography. The vase is in excellent overall condition, retaining the charm of the natural aging of the enamels, with slight wear consistent with its age.
