Description

French School, late 19th centuryA poignant portrait of the French bourgeoisie during the Belle Époque, this work reveals the full mastery of an academic artist in the art of capturing his subject's personality. The finely modeled face, the calm and confident gaze, and the simplicity of the composition give the work a remarkable presence.The deliberately restrained color palette, dominated by deep browns and blacks, highlights the delicate light that brings the subject's features to life. This pursuit of elegance and dignity is characteristic of commissioned portraits created in the late 19th century.The work is beautifully highlighted by its large carved and gilded wooden frame, richly adorned with plant motifs, which fully contributes to its decorative and heritage character.An authentic and refined piece, ideal for
