Description

A pair of dog sculptures, hand-carved from Italian white marble in the 1980s. Created on an imposing scale, these elegant figures capture the noble character and loyalty traditionally associated with man's best friend.The sculptor paid particular attention to the anatomical modeling, expressive features, and natural posture of the animals, creating a harmonious balance between realism and decorative refinement. The purity of the white marble enhances the sculptural quality of the forms, while their generous dimensions give the pair a strong architectural presence.Perfect for property entrances, French gardens, terraces, courtyards, or large interior spaces, these sculptures evoke the tradition of European garden ornamentation and classical decorative arts.Their timeless design and
