Large Maasai Ceremonial Dagger Made Of Ebony, 1960s

250 EUR

Period : 20th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Solid wood

Description

This Maasai ceremonial dagger, dating from the 1960s, is a remarkable piece, finely crafted from ebony, one of Africa's most precious woods. Recognizable by its elongated, elegant shape and deep natural color, it bears witness to the rich artistic traditions of the Maasai people of East Africa, renowned for their warrior culture and unique ceremonial objects.Traditionally, ceremonial weapons held an important symbolic place within Maasai society, serving as emblems of status, identity, and cultural heritage. This piece stands out for its impressive dimensions and sculptural quality, transforming a traditional object into a remarkable decorative work of art.The dense ebony wood features a magnificent natural patina acquired over decades, highlighting the craftsmanship and enhancing its visual appeal.

Dealer

Florin Antiques
Meubles et Objets d'art du XVIIIe et XIXeme
Tel : 0034 671 362 406
Mobile : 0034 671 362 406

PASEO RECOLETOS 31
Madrid 28004

Its minimalist silhouette and imposing presence make it a prime piece for collectors of African art, ethnographic objects, or for refined interior design.A rare and highly decorative piece, combining tribal art, fine materials, and rich cultural symbolism.Dimensions:Height: 87 cmWidth: 4 cmDepth: 5 cmCondition:Very good vintage condition. Slight signs of wear due to age and use. Beautiful patina and well-preserved ebony surface.Keywords:Florin Antiques