Set Of The Four Seasons In Patinated Iron, 1970s

22 000 EUR

Period : 20th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Wrought iron

Description

A set of four monumental sculptures depicting the allegorical figures of the Four Seasons. Crafted from weathered iron in the 1970s, each figure takes the form of a winged angel resting on its original painted base, creating a striking ensemble inspired by classical garden statues.Rich in decorative detail, the sculptures embody the traditional symbolism of the Four Seasons while asserting a strong architectural presence. The naturally oxidized iron surface gives the figures a distinctive character and a beautiful patina, accentuating their sculptural depth and appeal for outdoor settings.Their imposing dimensions and natural patina make them ideal for French gardens, terraces, courtyards, estates, or large interior spaces seeking a classic and spectacular touch.Origin: EuropePeriod: 1970sMaterial:
