Description

A monumental marble sculpture, created in Italy in the mid-20th century, depicting a sea figure inspired by Greek mythology. The composition depicts a powerful male figure, seated on a rock, his arm outstretched in an expressive and dramatic gesture, evoking the gods, heroes, and marine deities of the ancient Mediterranean world.Entirely hand-carved from marble, the sculpture demonstrates exceptional artistic quality and technical mastery. The anatomical modeling, the fluidity of the forms, and the naturalistic treatment of the rocky base reveal the talent of a highly skilled sculptor. The delicacy of the sculpture and its monumental dimensions suggest that it may have been a special commission for an important villa, estate, fountain, or architectural feature.The marble has acquired a beautiful patina
