Description

Surrealist Bourgeois Portrait - Homage to Magritte - Oil on antique canvas.Dimensions with frame: 91 x 75 cmA unique and humorous work based on an early 20th-century bourgeois portrait, reimagined in a style openly inspired by the world of René Magritte.The figure, dressed in a black suit and wearing the famous bowler hat associated with the Belgian painter, appears against a luminous sky streaked with clouds. These clouds pass across the model's face, blurring the boundaries between portrait and landscape and creating a typically surrealist poetic effect.The artist plays with Magritte's visual codes while preserving the presence of the original portrait. The result oscillates between homage, subversion, and contemporary reinterpretation. The work explores identity, appearance, and perception with humor and lightness.Signed "Tagritte" on the reverse, this creation is an obvious nod to the Belgian master of surrealism while asserting its own personality.With its large format, immediate visual impact, and offbeat character, this work will naturally find its place in a contemporary interior, a unique art collection, or a modern cabinet of curiosities.Presented in a remarkable antique carved and molded wooden frame that further enhances the contrast between academic tradition and contemporary intervention.
