Description

An antique cast bronze sculpture depicting a motionless hunting dog, likely a spaniel. The work is signed "J. Moigniez" on the base.This sculpture attests to Jules Moigniez's commitment to realism and his significant contribution to 19th-century animal sculpture. The spaniel's natural posture, as well as the attention paid to its musculature and bearing, illustrate the artist's ability to infuse his subjects with energy and life.Jules Moigniez (1835-1894) was a French sculptor renowned for his highly detailed animal bronzes, particularly his depictions of dogs and hunting scenes. His works are appreciated for their realism, the precision of their execution, and the emotional expression conveyed by the animals' poses.Dimensions:Height: 14 cmWidth: 19 cmDepth: 6.5 cmMaterials and techniques:
