Description

Vintage halogen floor lamp in solid gilded brass, designed by the prestigious French lighting house Gault. A true icon of the Hollywood Regency and neoclassical styles of the 1970s and 1980s, it stands out for the elegance of its finishes: a finely fluted central shaft interrupted by a molded ring, a heavy circular base adorned with stylized gadroons ensuring perfect stability, and a superb flared shade that diffuses warm and powerful indirect light. It fits just as well in a contemporary living room to add a touch of golden warmth as it does in a vintage or classic chic setting. In good overall cosmetic condition for its age; the brass shines. Note: there are superficial signs of wear and natural oxidation consistent with the product's age (visible in photos). Height: 176 cm /. Top diameter: 32 cm. Base diameter: 25
