Description

This expressive Art Deco "Jugendstil" style mantel clock, created in the second half of the twentieth century by the famous German manufactory Europa, represents a beautiful example of sporting aesthetics in the world of interior art. The podium of the clock is crowned by a sculpture of a football player, captured at the moment of a decisive strike. The sculptor conveyed the dynamics of movement and the concentration of the athlete with striking precision. The dark patina contrasts beautifully with the elegant light dial, framed in a golden bezel and additionally decorated with a floral motif. This work stands as an especially symbolic and attractive acquisition today, against the backdrop of the ongoing World Cup. This beautiful thematic clock will become an invisible
