Description

A large Louis XV style commode with generous proportions and forms in the style of François Linke's work. The front and sides feature marquetry in a radiating sunburst pattern, crafted in light mahogany within violet wood frames. Beautifully ornamented with finely chased gilt bronze. An exceptional peach blossom marble top, over 4 cm thick, with a double-beveled edge. Parisian work from the Faubourg Saint-Germain, late 19th century - circa 1900 - circle of François Linke. In very good condition - fully restored by our workshop with a traditional French polish finish.
