Description

A rare Art Deco-era two-in-one light fixture (circa 1930) combining a table lamp (nightlight) with a built-in mechanical clock from the famous French watchmaker BAYARD. This decorative piece, typical of the Art Deco period, charms with its slender design, stylized geometric and floral motifs, and its dual function, which is highly sought after by collectors. The silver-plated metal base shows some wear and has a small crack at the bottom; the glass has some chips on the neck; the alarm clock has not been tested. Free shipping within France
