Description

Wall-mounted corner console table designed by Charlotte Perriand for the Nova residence, built in Les Arcs 1800 between 1976 and 1981. Crafted from solid fir, it features an asymmetrical shape specifically designed to optimize the limited space in mountain apartments. Its top features a distinctive ergonomic cutout as well as an opening for a light fixture or electrical equipment. Mounted directly to the wall (mounting hardware not included), this console table exemplifies Charlotte Perriand's functional approach, in which each element contributes to the overall design of the space. Provenance: Nova Residence, Les Arcs 1800.
