Description

Large centerpiece made of hand-painted earthenware featuring a charming Renaissance-style design.The substantial size of this centerpiece or planter makes it a highly decorative piece.Set against a backdrop of fauns and interlacing patterns, two medallions feature Poseidon on one side and, most likely, Amphitrite on the other.The interior is decorated with interlacing patterns.In fairly good condition; there is a chip on the upper rim and slight discoloration on the interior glaze.Dated to the 19th century, between 1855 and 1860, based on the signature.
