Perrier-jouët "anémones" Champagne Bucket In Green Glass

180 EUR

Period : 20th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Glass

Diameter : 24

Height : 21

Description

Perrier-Jouët "Anémones" Champagne Bucket in Green Glass - Second half of the 20th centuryAn elegant Perrier-Jouët promotional champagne bucket, crafted from green-tinted glass and decorated with the famous white anemones inspired by the motif created by Émile Gallé in 1902 for the prestigious Champagne house.This iconic piece features the floral design that has become the emblem of Perrier-Jouët, with its large, stylized flowers and long stems delicately spreading across the deep green background of the glass. The inscription "Champagne Perrier-Jouët - Épernay-France" appears on the front.Both a luxury promotional item and a sought-after decorative piece, this champagne bucket will naturally find its place on a reception table, in a bar, or within a collection dedicated to

Dealer

Tino antiquites
Mobilier
Mobile : 0763127955

11 rue de bel air à l'huis laurent
Dun les Places 58230

the world of champagne and the fine arts of the table.Dimensions:Height: 21 cmDiameter: 24 cmMaterials:Green-tinted glassPolychrome screen-printed decorationPeriod:second half of the 20th century.Condition:Very good overall condition. Beautiful glass transparency and well-preserved decoration. A few slight signs of wear consistent with its intended use.A decorative and iconic piece from Perrier-Jouët, combining elegance, the French art of living, and the prestige of champagne. Ideal for enthusiasts of high-end promotional items or collectors of this famous Champagne house.