

Wooden Horse Saddle Rack - Animal-shaped - Folk Art, Ca. 1840 (victorian Era)

1 850 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Solid wood

Length : 69

Width : 38

Height : 66

Description

This rare and sculptural English easel from the Victorian era (circa 1840) comes from the collection of Welsh antique dealer Drew Pritchard, who became world-famous thanks to the television program "Salvage Hunters". Originally used to store and maintain riding saddles, its clean lines now make it a unique sculptural object of curiosity with a powerful folk art aesthetic. A one-of-a-kind piece.

Payment : Credit Card, Bank Transfer, or PayPal

Shipping : Carefully packed tracked parcel, dispatched within 24/48 hours

Collection : Pick-up available in the Paris area

Dealer

Galerie NAKKAYA

Art - Antiquités - Objets de Collection - Trésors oubliés

Mobile : +33 6 26 73 09 29

Clamart 92140