Description

Art Nouveau-style lamp signed "Richard" (produced by the LOETZ glassworks in the 1920s) made of acid-etched multilayer glass. This lamp is a testament to the craftsmanship of early 20th-century master glassmakers. It consists of a "mushroom" shade and a baluster-shaped base made of multilayered glass. The design, finely etched, depicts a mountainous lakeside landscape featuring fir trees, other trees, and a small country house, set against a warm, luminous orange-honey background. Gilded bronze base and frame in excellent condition; the top is chipped and has been re-glued. Free shipping within France.
