Description

19th-century Renaissance-style carved walnut chest
An elegant, richly carved walnut chest inspired by French Renaissance furniture. Its architecturally designed front features a remarkable central bas-relief panel depicting an allegorical or mythological scene: a draped woman with a young child, framed by an arcade with small columns. The sides are adorned with rosettes and molded frames, while the upper frieze is decorated with finely carved foliage and plant motifs. The piece rests on solid turned legs that reinforce its Renaissance character. Thanks to its compact dimensions, this piece can be used as a chest, an occasional table, a side table, or a decorative element in a classic interior. Features: Carved walnut Renaissance decoration with plant motifs and rosettes Central
