

Set Of Large Chinese Porcelain Vases With Floral And Bird Motifs, 19th Century

900 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Porcelain

Height : 45

Description

Pair of Large Chinese Porcelain Vases with Floral and Bird Decorations, 19th Century
A beautiful pair of Chinese porcelain vases with flared necks, hand-painted in the "Famille Rose" style. Each vase features a rich design of blooming peonies--a symbol of prosperity and nobility in Chinese art--accompanied by birds perched among the branches. The reverse side is adorned with calligraphic inscriptions in Chinese characters, adding a decorative and poetic touch to the ensemble. The delicate color palette combines shades of pink, green, brown, and black against a very light celadon background. The designs are executed with finesse and enhanced with gold details. The elegant shape, with its widely flared neck, particularly highlights the floral compositions. Apocryphal marks on the

Dealer

Tino antiquites

Mobilier

Mobile : 0763127955

11 rue de bel air à l'huis laurent

Dun les Places 58230

base. This pair of vases offers beautiful decorative quality, ideal for adorning a classic interior or a cabinet of curiosities. Origin: China Period: late 19th century - early 20th century Material: polychrome glazed porcelain Decor: peonies, birds, and calligraphy Condition: Good overall condition. Some slight wear and minor original firing flaws visible, but these do not affect the appearance. No restoration observed. Dimensions Height: 45 cm