Description

A dynamic sculpture depicting a battle scene between two fantastical creatures: a lion with distinctly predatory features and a dragon with an elongated, serpentine body covered in scales. The composition is based on a spiral arrangement of forms, in which the dragon's body coils around the lion's silhouette, creating a compact structure full of tension.The sculpture makes use of the root's natural form, which gives the piece its irregular and organic character.Indonesia (Bali?), late 20th century.Wood (root), hand-carved.Height: 60 cm, width: 36 cm, depth: 30 cm.Condition: good.
