

Louis-philippe Cabriolet Armchair In Mahogany - 19th Century

200 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Mahogany

Width : 60

Height : 100

Depth : 55

Description

Louis-Philippe Mahogany Cabriolet Armchair - 19th Century A charming Louis-Philippe-era cabriolet armchair, crafted from solid mahogany in the mid-19th century. This chair is distinguished by its elegant violin-shaped backrest, its curved armrests, and its supple lines characteristic of the Louis-Philippe style. The quality of the woodwork is particularly remarkable, with beautiful, continuous curves connecting the front legs to the armrests. The mahogany frame features a warm, original patina in shades of blond and amber. The armchair rests on four curved legs; the front legs are fitted with period casters to facilitate movement. Traditional upholstery on webbing and horsehair. Original upholstery in damask fabric with a tone-on-tone cream floral pattern; still presentable but can be

Dealer

Tino antiquites

Mobilier

Mobile : 0763127955

11 rue de bel air à l'huis laurent

Dun les Places 58230

replaced according to the future owner's taste. This model offers generous seating comfort thanks to its harmonious proportions and enveloping backrest. Condition: Structure is in good overall condition. The wood is sound and stable, with some signs of wear consistent with its age. The fabric shows some signs of aging and slight wear. The original seat underside is visible. Dimensions: Height: 100 cm Width: 60 cm Depth: 55 cm A very elegant living room or office armchair, representative of 19th-century French bourgeois furniture.