Description

A pair of Art Deco-era side tables, pedestals, or stands made of Rio rosewood, topped with their original Pyrenean breccia marble. One must admire the choice of wood on all three sides, which creates a beautiful symmetry--a rarity in cabinetmaking that attests to the cabinetmaker's meticulous attention to detail. The very reasonable price takes into account the small blisters present, which, in our opinion, do not require the services of a cabinetmaker--a process that is always very costly since the varnish would have to be completely redone. They are likely in their original condition. Dimensions of the marble slabs intended for sculptures or lamps: 26.5 cm per side. We can arrange shipping to mainland France for 150 EUR per pair.
