Description

A three-seater Biedermeier-era sofa in light wood, featuring the simple, architectural lines characteristic of this style. The frame, with its flared backrest and armrests, forms a harmonious whole with balanced proportions, resting on four tapered legs. The geometric shapes and slanted legs evoke designs inspired by early 19th-century Biedermeier furniture. The wood, with its warm reddish-blond patina, highlights the quality of the craftsmanship. The upholstery and floral-striped fabric are in good condition, with matching back and side cushions. Comfortable and firm seating. This sofa will fit equally well in a classic interior or a contemporary setting, where its sleek silhouette will add a timeless touch.
