

Empire-style Walnut Drop-leaf Desk - Early 19th Century

850 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Walnut

Diameter : 96

Height : 146

Depth : 44

Description

Empire-period walnut drop-leaf secretary desk - Early 19th century
Elegant Empire-period drop-leaf secretary desk in light walnut, featuring the sober and monumental design characteristic of the First Empire. The front is framed by two freestanding columns topped with gilded bronze rings, resting on cylindrical bases that enhance the piece's majestic appearance. The drop-leaf top conceals a refined interior consisting of a central niche framed by small columns, as well as five small storage drawers. It also reveals a writing desk covered in golden fawn leather with a small iron inlay, offering a functional and elegant workspace. The lower section features three front drawers, each fitted with bronze pull knobs. The walnut wood displays a beautiful natural grain in warm tones, enhanced by an antique patina. The

Dealer

Tino antiquites

Mobilier

Mobile : 0763127955

11 rue de bel air à l'huis laurent

Dun les Places 58230

piece perfectly exemplifies the Empire aesthetic, emphasizing the quality of materials, balanced proportions, and classical inspiration. A piece that is both decorative and functional, ideal for an office, a library, or a classic interior. Dimensions: Height: 146 cm Width: 96 cm Depth: 44 cm Condition: In good overall condition. The structure is sound and stable. The interior is complete with all its drawers. Shows normal wear and tear, as well as age-related marks and minor scuffs consistent with the piece's age. The leather on the drop-down panel has developed a patina of age. Period: Empire, early 19th century Material: solid walnut and walnut veneer, gilded bronze, leather. Origin: France.