

Antique Charles X-era Drop-leaf Secretary Desk In Burl Elm - 19th Century

980 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Other

Width : 103

Height : 154

Depth : 48

Description

Charles X-era drop-front secretary desk in elm burl - 19th century
A rare and elegant Charles X-era drop-front secretary desk, crafted from elm burl with remarkable flared and moiré patterns. The front, with its understated design, highlights the wood's natural richness, characteristic of the refined furniture of the Restoration period. The flap opens to reveal a meticulously crafted interior featuring several letter compartments, five small drawers, and a central storage area. It also reveals a writing desk covered in green leather, creating a true workspace. The lower section features storage drawers concealed behind a harmonious front panel. The side panels are adorned with volute-shaped carved consoles, a detail typical of Charles X furniture, while the entire piece rests

Dealer

Tino antiquites

Mobilier

Mobile : 0763127955

11 rue de bel air à l'huis laurent

Dun les Places 58230

on tapered legs with molded bases. The exceptional quality of the burl elm, combined with the purity of its lines, gives this piece an elegant and warm presence. Serving as both a desk and a storage unit, this secretary desk will fit perfectly in a study, a library, or a refined interior. Dimensions: Height: 154 cm Width: 103 cm Depth: 48 cm Condition: In good overall condition. Interior is complete with its original compartments and drawers. Antique writing leather showing a patina from use. Some signs of age and slight wear consistent with the piece's age. Period: Charles X, first half of the 19th century Materials: burl elm, leather, and brass. Origin: France.