6-light Chandelier With Porcelain Putto, Crystals, And Roses - 1950s

620 EUR

Period : 20th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Porcelain

Width : 50

Height : 72

Description

A distinctive and decorative six-light chandelier made in the 1950s, featuring a refined gilded metal frame with plant motifs, embellished with numerous hand-sculpted white porcelain roses and cut-glass pendants.The centerpiece of the composition is an elegant white glazed porcelain cherub, seated among flowering vines and floral decorations, which lends the piece a romantic and dramatic appearance typical of the decorative art of that period.The structure features a harmonious interplay of volutes, gilded leaves, flowers, and dangling crystals that lend lightness and luminosity to the whole. The six light fixtures are arranged in a balanced manner and provide pleasant lighting as well as a strong decorative impact.The existing electrical wiring dates back approximately to the 1960s-1970s; upon request,

Dealer

Gabriele e Gionata Retini
Furniture, paintings, sculptures, objets d'art, chandeliers, antiques
Tel : 3395268391

Via Marco Polo 147
Bientina - Pisa 56031

it can be replaced with a new system built to current standards, while preserving the chandelier's aesthetic appearance. It is in good overall condition with normal signs of age and use.Dimensions: Height: 72 cm; Diameter/Maximum Width: 50 cm. A chandelier with great decorative impact, ideal for bedrooms, entryways, living rooms, or spaces furnished in a romantic, Provençal, or classic style.