Description

We are offering this splendid early 20th-century Italian garden set, crafted from a combination of concrete and gravel. This majestic set includes two large ornamental garden vases. The vases feature rich, Baroque-inspired decoration. They have a flared shape, resembling a chalice. They rest on a solid square base that tapers into a fluted pedestal before flaring out into the main body of the vase. The upper section is wide and sculpted, with protruding decorative volutes. On the sides, two cherub heads create a distinctive visual accent. The central band is richly decorated with relief ornamental motifs in a classical style. They are in good condition, with minor traces of restoration that do not compromise their overall aesthetic beauty--signs consistent with their age and outdoor use. If you are furnishing a
