Description

Small Art Deco frosted glass bowl by Maurice Model, dating from the 1930s. It features a spiral floral design with a beaded leaf-style rim. Shows minor signs of age-related wear. Dimensions: Diameter 23.5 cm, Height 3.5 cm. The glassworks founded by Maurice Model was located in Verdun from 1928 to 1940 (the year it was bombed). Production was primarily destined for the United States market. The pieces were made of crystal, frosted glass, or opalescent glass. The quality was exceptional across the entire range, including lighting fixtures (lamps, chandeliers, wall sconces), centerpieces, and sculptures (figures or animals). The glassworks was renowned for the high quality of its creations.
