Description

A magnificent pair of monumental garden statues, hand-carved from Vicenza stone and dating from the 19th century. Depicting two figures elegantly dressed in period costumes, these sculptures embody the refinement and artistic sophistication of the great Italian sculptural tradition. Crafted with exceptional skill, the figures feature finely sculpted clothing, expressive features, and graceful poses that convey both dignity and naturalism. The sculptor paid remarkable attention to the rendering of the drapery, creating a rich interplay of light and shadow that accentuates the composition's relief. Carved from the famous Vicenza stone--a material prized for centuries in Italian architecture and sculpture--the statues possess a warm natural hue and a beautiful patina acquired over more than a century of exposure to the elements. Their monumental size and architectural presence make them ideal focal points for French-style gardens, property entrances, courtyards, terraces, parks, or historic estates. These sculptures evoke the elegance of 19th-century Italian villas and aristocratic gardens, where figures of this kind were commissioned to embellish the landscaping and create a dialogue between architecture and nature. A rare and impressive collection, combining historical authenticity, artistic quality, and exceptional decorative impact.
