

Gilt Brass Table Lamp With Finely Engraved Thistle Motif

1 200 EUR

Period : 20th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Brass

Description

This elegant Art Deco table lamp is crafted from richly gilded brass and distinguished by its finely engraved thistle decoration, a motif long associated with refinement and decorative arts of the twentieth century. The lamp features a clean, geometric silhouette centered around a square brass body, beautifully enhanced with delicate hand-cised thistles and stylized foliage that create a subtle contrast against the combination of polished and matte finishes. The warm golden surface reflects light beautifully, highlighting the intricate engraved decoration and demonstrating the quality of the craftsmanship. The design successfully combines the strong architectural lines typical of the Art Deco movement with the organic elegance of natural motifs, creating a piece that is both decorative and timeless. with a custom cream-colored fabric shade adorned with decorative braid trim, the lamp emits a soft and inviting light. The neutral shade complements the brass body perfectly while preserving the visual prominence of the finely engraved thistle motif. Dating from circa 1970, this lamp remains highly decorative and versatile. It would be equally at home on a desk, console, side table, or bedside cabinet, bringing warmth, character, and sophistication to both traditional and contemporary interiors. The combination of bright gilded brass, matte engraved details, and elegant proportions makes this a particularly attractive decorative lighting piece. Please note that this lamp should be inspected and, if necessary, rewired by a qualified electrician to comply with the electrical standards and requirements of the country of installation.
