Description

A 19th-century sculpture carved from Vicenza stone, depicting Hercules accompanied by two animals. Crafted with exceptional skill and remarkable attention to detail, this monumental work--inspired by the heroic themes of classical antiquity--celebrates the strength, courage, and legendary feats of one of the most admired figures in Greco-Roman mythology. Hercules, son of Zeus and the greatest hero of the ancient world, is depicted in a powerful and imposing pose. The sculptor has masterfully rendered the figure's anatomy, facial expression, and movement, conveying both his physical strength and heroic determination. The animals surrounding him add dynamism and narrative depth to the composition, reinforcing the work's mythological character. Entirely hand-carved from
