

Italian Trompe-l'oeil Earthenware Soup Tureen In The Shape Of A Pumpkin

250 EUR

Period : 20th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Earthenware

Diameter : 40

Height : 27

Description

Italian Trompe-l'OEil Earthenware Soup Tureen in the Shape of a Pumpkin Dimensions: Height: 27 cm Diameter: 40 cm
A stunning decorative glazed earthenware soup tureen depicting a large white pumpkin resting on its matching stand. The lid is adorned with a stem and leaves modeled in relief, while the matching earthenware ladle completes the set. This piece follows the Italian tradition of naturalistic "trompe-l'oeil" ceramics, inspired by the works of Bassano and the northern Italian manufacturers specializing in life-size fruit and vegetable designs. The mark beneath the base indicates that it is a contemporary Italian piece. The highly realistic rendering of the bark, the rugged relief, and the glossy glaze give this soup tureen a striking decorative presence, ideal for a festive table or a refined kitchen.

Dealer

Tino antiquites

Mobilier

Mobile : 0763127955

11 rue de bel air à l'huis laurent

Dun les Places 58230

decor.OriginItaly.Period20th century.MaterialsPolychrome glazed earthenware.ConditionGood overall condition.Some minor wear, stains, and superficial firing cracks are visible in the photographs.Ladle included.