

Important Japanese-style Display Cabinet Made Of Carved Wood

2 800 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Solid wood

Width : 100

Height : 226

Depth : 52

Description

Important Japanese-Style Display Cabinet in Carved Wood From the Far East, late 19th century - Japonism period Spectacular Asian-inspired display cabinet, richly carved from exotic wood with a beautiful brown patina. This exceptional piece reflects the fascination with the Far East that characterized European decorative arts in the late 19th century. The overall design evokes an Asian pavilion with its tall, openwork pagoda topped by tiered roofs and crowned with a mythical creature. The piece is lavishly adorned with high-relief carvings depicting imperial dragons, stylized plants, bunches of grapes, birds, and symbolic motifs inspired by Chinese iconography. The upper section features a display case intended for exhibiting precious objects, while the middle section combines a carved door

Dealer

Tino antiquites

Mobilier

Mobile : 0763127955

11 rue de bel air à l'huis laurent

Dun les Places 58230

with dragon motifs and an open compartment. An openwork side shelf and a lower tier complete this particularly elaborate composition. Thanks to the quality of its craftsmanship, its imposing size, and the richness of its decoration, this piece of furniture is a spectacular decorative item intended for a prestigious interior, a cabinet of curiosities, or a collection dedicated to Japonism and the arts of the Far East. Condition Good overall condition. Some wear and minor, age-appropriate restorations. Original glass intact. Sound and stable structure. Period Late 19th century, circa 1880-1900. Style Japonism - Chinoiserie - Far East. Dimensions Height: 226 cm Width: 100 cm Depth: 52 cm