Description

Set of three gilded brass picture frames Louis XV and Art Deco styles - 20th century A charming set consisting of three picture frames in different styles, crafted from gilded brass and glass. The first features an elegant rectangular frame topped by an openwork pediment decorated with scrollwork and foliage, inspired by the Louis XV style. The second features a particularly decorative, undulating rocaille shape, richly adorned with pearls and scrollwork. The third, more understated and modern, consists of a glass structure held in place by an elegant brass support with a hinged mechanism, in the Art Deco style. This decorative set allows you to create an elegant display of photographs, engravings, or mementos on a desk, console table, or mantelpiece. Condition Good overall condition.
