Description

This elegant set of six English dining chairs dates from the 19th-century and displays the refined craftsmanship and understated sophistication characteristic of the Victorian period furniture. Crafted in richly figured walnut, the chairs feature beautifully curved backrests with a gently shaped crest rail, supported by slender uprights and a subtly arched stretcher. The warm color and attractive grain of the wood contribute to their timeless appeal.The chairs stand on gracefully tapered legs with a slight saber form, creating a light and elegant silhouette while maintaining excellent stability. Their proportions are particularly pleasing, making them suitable for both traditional and eclectic interiors. The seats are upholstered in a soft yellow fabric decorated with a delicate repeating floral motif, adding a touch of brightness and charm to the ensemble.The set remains structurally sound and presents well overall, with age-related wear, surface marks, and small imperfections consistent with long use. One chair back shows an old repaired crack, visible upon close inspection, which does not detract from the functionality or decorative appeal of the set. The upholstery is in usable condition, with minor signs of wear and light marks commensurate with age.A handsome and versatile set, ideal for use around a dining table or as accent seating in a refined country house, townhouse, or traditional interior. Their elegant lines and warm walnut patina allow them to integrate effortlessly into a wide range of decorative schemes, from classic Victorian English interiors to more contemporary settings seeking authentic period character.Four of the six chairs retain a stamped "Powell" mark, visible on the back's frame.Dimensions (each chair):H: 87.5 cm × W: 49.5 cm × D: 49.5 cm × SH: 45 cm(H: 34.45 in × W: 19.49 in × D: 19.49 in × SH: 17.72 in)
