Description

A rare and beautiful original lithograph by Jacques Brivot, signed in pencil and annotated "Artist's Proof" in the lower margin. Circa 1960-1970. On Arches watermarked paper. This remarkable composition perfectly captures the artist's world: a sensual and elegant female figure stands out against a light-filled interior, while the play of light and shadow on a vase in the foreground creates a striking sense of visual depth. The vibrant palette, dominated by reds, ochres, blues, and greens, attests to the artist's talent as a colorist. Trained at the École des Beaux-Arts in Paris in the studio of painter Maurice Brianchon, Jacques Brivot developed a distinctive figurative body of work throughout his career in which color and light play an essential role. Often described as a "painter of light," he is
