Description

A pair of elegant, small wall-mounted consoles made in Venice in the late 19th century and early 1900s. The pieces feature a refined lacquer finish in a pastel blue shade with exquisite gold details. The sinuous design evokes the lightness of 18th-century Venetian Barocchetto. Each piece is embellished with carved decorations featuring curled volutes and geometric motifs along the contoured legs. The tops are finely painted to resemble marble with realistic veining. Their harmonious proportions and compact size make them ideal for enhancing entryways, hallways, or elegant living rooms.
