

Stuffed Sand Antelope Trophy, Africa, 1960s

2 000 EUR

Period : 20th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Solid wood

Description

An African sable antelope trophy dating from the 1960s, featuring the magnificent taxidermied head of one of Africa's most admired and majestic antelope species. Renowned for its elegant appearance and spectacular curved horns, the sable antelope has long been considered one of the most prestigious trophies on the African continent. The trophy highlights the species' distinctive features, including its noble profile, expressive eyes, distinctive ears, and impressive lyre-shaped horns. The taxidermy specimen captures the animal's beauty and grandeur while serving as a striking decorative piece with a strong visual presence. Dating from the golden age of African safaris, this trophy reflects the taxidermy expertise and techniques of the mid-20th century. Its imposing dimensions make

Dealer

Florin Antiques

Meubles et Objets d'art du XVIIIe et XIXeme

Tel : 0034 671 362 406

Mobile : 0034 671 362 406

PASEO RECOLETOS 31

Madrid 28004

it an ideal centerpiece for a hunting lodge, a country house, a library, an office, a trophy room, a luxurious interior, or a collection of African memorabilia. The trophy currently shows slight damage to the ears. These imperfections will be restored by a professional prior to delivery, ensuring a flawless presentation while preserving the piece's authenticity and character. A remarkable decorative trophy celebrating the beauty of African wildlife and the tradition of safari collecting. Origin: Africa Period: 1960s Material: Taxidermy trophy mount Species: Black antelope (Hippotragus niger) Dimensions: Height: 137 cm Width: 110 cm Depth: 75 cm Condition: Good vintage condition. Slight signs of wear due to age. There are small chips on the ears, which will be restored by a professional before delivery. Impressive overall presentation with well-preserved horns and strong decorative appeal. Keywords: Florin Antiques