Description

A remarkable antique frame made of carved wood and gilded with gold leaf, featuring an elegant openwork design of foliage, small flowers, shells, and finely chiseled trellises. This refined composition is characteristic of the Regency style, a transitional period between the decorative grandeur of the late reign of Louis XIV and the lighter, more graceful style that would flourish under Louis XV. The corners and centers are accented with carved seashells, while the uprights and crossbars are enlivened by a rich network of floral scrolls set against an engraved background. The quality of the craftsmanship, the delicacy of the decoration, and the particularly generous dimensions give this frame a remarkable presence. It serves as an ideal setting for a 17th- or 18th-century French, Italian, or Flemish painting. The original gilding retains a beautiful patina, with signs of wear and touch-ups consistent with its age. Origin: France Period: Regency, circa 1715-1735 Material: carved wood gilded with gold leaf External dimensions: 127 × 105 cm Dimensions at the rebate: 105 × 82 cm Condition: good overall condition; signs of wear and previous restorations consistent with its age; the carving and gilding are well preserved. Notes This frame belongs to the sought-after category of large Regency frames decorated with foliage and shells. Its design, still symmetrical and inherited from the Grand Siècle, is already enlivened by the movement and elegance characteristic of the 1720s. The engraved backgrounds and relief-carved elements attest to high-quality craftsmanship intended for framing important paintings. Given its dimensions, it is equally suited to a large portrait as it is to a religious or mythological scene.
