Description

Iranian wool kurk* rug*, cotton warp and weft, circa 1970. Very good condition.Charming "zarsharak" rug depicting a "nomadic scene." The scene takes place by a stream in the spring.A man plays the flute while his wife milks a cow. Other animals graze and drink. Two yurts have been set up. Birds take flight against a cloud-filled sky. On the right, mountains--possibly representing the Zagros Mountains--rise majestically.A "herati" (flower) border serves as a frame, surrounding this scene.The colors used are very fresh, and the craftsmanship is superb.Note: In the yurt on the left, there are numerous boteh motifs.* Kurk wool: fine lamb's wool obtained through combing. A strong and durable wool. Boteh: An ancient motif with various meanings. It can represent Zoroaster's transformation into a
