Description

An elegant and spectacular rectangular coffee table with two tops, made around 1970 in the Hollywood Regency style. The structure harmoniously combines solid transparent Plexiglas legs, polished brass elements, and two clear glass tops. The four corners are adorned with faceted pyramidal cabochons that enhance the piece's luxurious and architectural character. With its high-quality materials and clean lines, this table evokes the high-end Italian and French designs of the 1970s, in the spirit of the creations of Willy Rizzo, Pierre Vandel, and Romeo Rega. The lower tabletop provides a particularly practical additional surface while accentuating the table's visual lightness. The solid Plexiglas legs beautifully capture the light and create subtle effects of transparency. Highly
