

Collection Of Warrior Ornaments - Kina, Papua New Guinea

1 400 EUR

Period : 20th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Nacre

Length : 16, 19 et 22 cm

Description

A collection of three kina made of mother-of-pearl from Papua New Guinea, carved into elegant crescent shapes. Two of the pieces feature a design engraved with small dots: one arranged in a regular band, the other in more elaborate cross-hatch patterns. These body ornaments were worn by men as prestige adornments and markers of social status. Early 20th century. Mint condition; each piece is displayed on a custom-made metal base.

Dealer

Sanson Elodie

Ethnographie, Photographies anciennes

Mobile : +33610013897

Sur rendez-vous

Paris 75015