Description

Large designer desk with two drawers, in the style of Jacques Hitier French piece from the 1950s. Elegant, large designer desk with two drawers, crafted in the style of Jacques Hitier, representative of 1950s French furniture. It features a solid oak top with light oak veneer, resting on a black-lacquered tubular metal frame. Its understated, timeless, and highly functional design makes it a piece that is as pleasant to use as it is to incorporate into contemporary or classic interiors. The desk features six drawers distributed across two side cabinets, offering ample storage space in various sizes. A shelf located beneath the tabletop provides additional space, ideal for files, a computer, or office supplies. The frame can be completely disassembled. The desk will be delivered in three parts: the tabletop; the two side cabinets. The screws will be carefully placed in a bag to allow for quick and easy reassembly. Condition The desk is in good overall condition. Please note: a few small chips in the oak veneer; a few scratches and normal signs of wear; some wear on the black lacquer finish of the frame. These minor imperfections are entirely consistent with the age of the piece and in no way affect its sturdiness, elegance, or comfort of use. Dimensions Length: 140 cm Depth: 80 cm Height: 75 cm Price 1,250 EUR Fixed price - non-negotiable. Delivery Galerie De Cicco will provide professional, meticulously prepared, and signed packaging. The desk will be completely disassembled to facilitate transport. It will arrive in three parts (the desktop and the two drawers), with the screws carefully stored in a bag to allow for quick reassembly. Delivery is provided free of charge by Galerie De Cicco. Please Note I am an antique dealer and have been working with this desk for several years. It is a piece of furniture that I particularly appreciate for its comfort, quality craftsmanship, and timeless elegance. Its size is ideal: spacious enough to work comfortably without being bulky. Its ample storage keeps your workspace perfectly organized. I highly recommend it for a primary residence, a second home, an office, a library, or a space dedicated to remote work. The light oak tabletop creates a warm and bright atmosphere that naturally fosters concentration, inspiration, and the joy of working. This is a desk you'll cherish for years to come, both for its aesthetic qualities and its remarkable functionality. When you purchase from Galerie De Cicco, you also benefit from the expertise of a professional antique dealer, careful packaging, and free shipping, ensuring your purchase arrives in the best possible condition.
