Description

Refined pair of solid walnut chests of drawers, finely carved and decorated with fruit tree inlays. The chests have a linear shape, supported by truncated pyramid legs typical of the Neoclassical period, and are embellished with a sinuous band with geometric decorations at the ends, enhancing their refinement. The pair is enriched with inlays, visible on the front, sides, and top, consisting of geometric strips, birds, and fantastical animals, with pyrography details that tastefully decorate the furniture. Both chests of drawers have three drawers that open with lost-wax cast bronze keys, ergonomically designed and ideal for storing
