Description

A remarkable terracotta sculpture depicting a Greek horse, created by the Italian sculptor Alfredo Lanz in the 1970s and signed "A. Lanz." Mounted on an elegant marble pedestal, this impressive work combines classical inspiration with the expressive style characteristic of Italian sculpture of that era. Inspired by the noble horses depicted in ancient Greek art, the sculpture captures the animal's strength, grace, and movement through bold modeling and refined anatomical details. The horse is depicted in a powerful pose with a dynamic presence, showcasing the artist's talent for expressing the vitality and elegance of a timeless subject. Crafted from terracotta, the sculpture features a rich texture and warm coloring that enhance its artistic quality. The contrast between the terracotta figure
